UNUSUAL COURTESY

WAS SHOWN BY EMPEROR WILHELM TO ADMIRAL COTTON AND HIS FLEET

AMERICAN TARS CHEER HIM

Wilhelm Expresses a Wish to Visit the Flagship—The American Sailors Given Shore Leave.

Kiel, June 24—Emperor William arrived this evening on board his yacht Hohenzollern, which was flying the American flag at her bow. The emperor stood on deck, and saluting as he passed the American war ships. After the Hohenzollern had taken up her moorings in front of the yacht club house, his majesty received Rear Admiral Cotton.

As the emperor's yacht sailed by Admiral Cotton's flagship, Kearsage, the imperial colors, floating at her stern, were dipped three times. This courtesy, being without precedent in the German navy, caused Admiral Cotton in his audience later with the emperor, to thank his majesty in the name of the president of the United States, for the honor shown the American navy.

The emperor's entrance into the harbor was the occasion for a tremendous cannonade, each of the thirty-two warships firing thirty-three guns. As the smoke from the thousand guns blew aside the Hohenzollern entered the lane of warships, at the upper end of which were the American vessels. The emperor stood alone on the upper bridge. The crews manning the cross turrets and sides of each American ship, gave his majesty three cheers as the yacht passed, which he acknowledged by saluting continuously.

The imperial colors were flown from the aftermast of each American warship. Aboard the Kearsage was a distinguished party of Americans, including Ambassador Gower, R. H. Hitt, secretary of the Berlin embassy, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Mrs. Potts, wife of the United States naval attaché.

Earlier in the day Rear Admiral Cotton had received a telegram from the emperor, saying his majesty would be pleased to receive him and other American commanders as soon as possible after his arrival. Consequently the rear admiral assembled the captains on his flagship and just as the Hohenzollern was attached to her mooring, Admiral Cotton's barge reached the emperor's yacht. Captain Usedom met Cotton and his party at the head of the gangway and presented them to the emperor, who was standing nearby with his suite grouped behind him. His majesty shook hands and conversed for a minute with each of the American officers, saying how glad he was to see them in German waters. Turning to Cotton, the emperor said:

"You were on the Monitor at Hampton Roads, were you not?"

"Not in the Monitor, sir," replied the admiral, "but in another ship which stood in the attack."

His majesty alluded to other incidents in Cotton's career and said he wished to visit the Kearsage, and would be pleased to take lunch aboard her. Cotton and his captains then retired.

The emperor's arrival was an hour later than expected and he did not visit the Kearsage tonight.

Leave was given to 250 men from the American crews to go on shore tonight. They were taken in charge by German sailors, who treated them in a most hospitable manner.

Philippines Well Pleased—Public Schools in Every City and Town Bring Good Results.

GREAT CHANGES IN FIVE YEARS

Washington, June 24—Judge E. Minley Smith, one of the justices of the supreme court of the Philippine islands, today discussed with the president the situation in the islands. Judge Smith recently was elevated from the circuit to the supreme bench. "During the two years I was on the circuit bench, said he, 'I tried 1500 cases. The Philippine people, despite occasional outbreaks, are taking kindly to American methods and to American government. I think it is a safe assertion that three-fourths of the people would not accept any other form of government, even if they had a chance. The greatest monument to the American government in the Philippines is the public school system. When the United States took possession of Philippine affairs in 1898, there was not a single common school in the island outside of Manila. Today there is not a city or town of any size in the island without common schools and many pupils. The beneficent results of this system can be appreciated very readily.'"

HAWKEYE DEMOCRATS

DO NOT REAFFIRM THE PRINCIPLES OF THE KANSAS CITY PLATFORM.

NOMINATE BY ACCLAMATION

Resolutions as Usual View with Alarm Everything That Has Contributed to Prosperity.

Des Moines, June 24—The democratic state convention today nominated these candidates: Governor—J. B. Sullivan, Oreston. Lieut. Governor—D. B. Butler, Iowa county. Judge Supreme Court—John R. Caldwell, Tama. Supt. Public Instruction—A. R. McCook, Howard. Railroad Commissioner—W. S. Porter, Harding.

The convention 463 to 354, late this afternoon refused to adopt a minority report signed by members of the committee on resolutions, adding to the platform reported by seven constituting a majority of the committee, a plank reaffirming the democratic national platform of 1900 and by a minority report adding a plank demanding government control of railways, tariffs and a provision that in case such control should not prove effective, the national government should acquire the ownership of railroads.

All nominations were made by acclamation, the friends of Judge Van Wagner of Sioux City having concluded not to present his name for governor after it became apparent that the convention would not adopt the government ownership plank which he has favored.

J. B. Sullivan, the nominee for Governor has been affiliated with the Bryan wing of the party but was acceptable to the gold democrats.

State Chairman Jackson called the convention to order at 4 a. m. and named J. E. Quick of Sioux City as temporary chairman. He made a speech and the committee adjourned till after dinner.

When the convention met at 2 o'clock a permanent organization was effected with D. W. Hamilton of Keokuk county as chairman.

E. M. Haron of Davenport, presented the report of the committee on resolutions and made the only speech in its support.

Pearsons of Rock Rapids, submitted a minority report in favor of the government ownership, of which he was the only signer, and spoke in favor of its adoption. After the report's rejection W. B. Bobb of Creston presented the resolution of amendment, which was adopted by a vote of 354 to 257.

S. Rhinehart, of Newton, ex-congressman Butler of Des Moines and Col. C. P. Muckey of Signorette. It was rejected. And the report of the majority of the committee was adopted without division.

The preamble and platform adopted says: "We find much in the domestic affairs of the nation that ought to be changed. The tariff policy, originally adopted for the avowed purpose of raising revenue to meet the enormous burden of the civil war, have been turned to the use of individual and class interests, until it has become the creator of countless unearned fortunes and the shelter of huge combinations of capital, organized in the form of trusts, which are strangling competition in many of our industries, destroying individual effort, crushing ambition largely in every line of industry and already acquiring power which enables them to dictate in their own interest, the prices of labor and raw materials and the terms of transportation of the finished product."

On state affairs the platform demands the economic, equitable taxation of the corporate and private property, the purchase of supplies from the lowest bidder, and the substitution of local option for the present mule law. The platform denounces government by injunction; favors the election of United States senators by a popular vote; opposes imperialist, condemn republican financial policies; protests against the Aldrich bill, by which the platform says, the money of the nation was loaned to capitalists upon securities of private corporations to give stability to watered stocks; demands the removal of the tariff from trust made goods; asks that the law control railroad charges; demands the money of the nation "shall be put out in volume to meet the needs of the business interests of the country and that it shall be safeguarded by careful legislation so as to prevent the gamblers of Wall Street from cornering the money market, thus inflicting undue injury upon smaller business men, the farmers and the laborers of the land."

WAS BY UNKNOWN PERSONS

Reporter and Another Farmer Testify About the Lynching of White at Wilmington.

CORONER AND DEPUTY QUARREL

Wilmington, Del., June 24—Arthur Corwell of Hartford City, Ind., who was arrested last night on a charge of complicity in the lynching of George White, was released on a $5000 bond tonight.

Two thousand persons surrounded the jail tonight demanding the release of Corwell, who was still in prison. When the coroner's verdict failed to implicate him, the police decided to release him on bail. This was promptly furnished and when the crowd heard he was sent up a great cheer, and immediately dispersed.

Deputy Kilmer would give the coroner no assistance in impaneling a jury on account of a "difference of opinion as to the method of proceeding." The coroner, however, secured a jury, and then the remains of White could not be found. After a long search they were found wrapped in a paper lying on an ice chest. White weighed about 200 pounds, but only five pounds of flesh and bones were left of him after the lynchers had concluded their work.

Then the coroner was at a loss for witnesses, the deputy telling him to "hunt around" for them. He secured two, a farmer and a reporter, and after hearing their testimony returned a verdict that White came to his death at the hands of unknown persons. The coroner's inquest having failed to reveal the identity of the lynchers, the authorities will be unable to proceed further and the belief is growing that no one will ever be punished.

Scenes of lawlessness in the negro quarter followed the dispersing of the crowd at the city hall. In a general fight in the Wood Chapel district a number of whites and blacks were injured. About the same time the whites attacked the homes of negroes on Orange street, breaking windows, etc. Several other collisions between whites and negroes occurred and required the entire police force to prevent serious rioting.

The agreement is hailed on all sides as being a great concession. John Redmond, the Irish leader, declared that Wyndham had saved the bill and the amendment was agreed to amid cheers and general congratulations.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, liberal leader, joined in the congratulations on the speech of Wyndham, prevailing and the dangerous clause one of the bill was adopted without division. Later Wyndham agreed to an extension of the limit of the advances to be made to purchasers of agricultural farms from $25,000 to $35,000. The house this evening passed to the third reading of the finance bill without division.

EX-CONGRESSMAN INDICTED

Admits Getting Money But Says That There Was Nothing Illegal in the Transaction.

New York, June 24—Former Congressman Driggs was indicted by the federal grand jury in Brooklyn today. He appeared before Judge Thomas and gave bail. The indictment grew out of the investigation into the post-office affairs made by the grand jury.

Four indictments were found all practically alike. Each charges that Driggs, between July 20 and 24, 1900, received a $500 check from the Brandt-Dent Co. for procuring a contract from the United States for making and delivering 250 automatic cashiers for the postoffice department. To the first two indictments Driggs pleaded not guilty, reserving the right to plead later to the others, which contain sixteen counts each. Driggs refused absolutely to comment on his indictment. Madden's publication of the letter in advance of its receipt by his superior officer, to whom it was addressed, and his suggestion that the matter in question might have been given out by First Assistant Postmaster General Wynne or Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, provoked considerable comment at the department. It is believed that Postmaster General Payne has sent a rather sharp reply to Madden.

WILL NOT LIVE WITH HIS WIFE BROTHER OF M'COOLE SAYS SO

Prisoner Did Not Go to Her After the Jury Acquitted Him of the Killing of W. G. McNier

NOT GUILTY ON FOURTH BALLOT

At First the Jury Stood 9 to 3 in Favor of Acquittal—What the Principals Say About the Case.

McCoole Presents His Pistol to Deputy Sheriff A. W. Hendricks.

Edley H. McCoole is a free man and his wife, Pyrie McCoole, is still in the same city with him but they are not going to live together any more. The jury in the murder case found McCoole not guilty of the murder of W. G. McNier and returned a verdict Wednesday morning at 8:34 o'clock. That is the end of the case which has stirred the city for the past six weeks.

This is what the principals say. What McCoole Says. After being freed E. H. McCoole said: "There have been some hard things said about me during this trial perhaps, but I want to say now that I do not hold any hard feelings toward anyone. It is all over now, and I have been acquitted and I do not feel hard toward any one. That is all I want to say."

What Pyrie Says. Pyrie McCoole, the wife of the man who was accused, was seen at Mrs. Childs' house on Broadway Wednesday night. She said: "I have absolutely nothing to say. I will not be interviewed and I will not talk at all. I have nothing to say, nothing at all to say."

Mrs. McCoole would not make any statement about her future plans and would not say whether or not she had seen her husband.

Mrs. McNier, the widow of the man who was killed, said: "I would not change positions with Mrs. McCoole. If she enjoys her position let her get the enjoyment."

Did Not Meet. McCoole was about the city Wednesday and spent the afternoon in his brother's office in the Powers building.

ing, and it was positively given out that he had not and would not see his wife. C. S. McCoole, the brother, said: "Ed positively has not seen his wife and the women of the city who seem to want to know about it can rest assured that he will not go back to live with his wife. That I can state positively."

M'COOLE'S SPORTING BLOOD Incited Him to Long Odds When He Saw the Jury.

"I would bet $400 if I had it and I only have two cents in my pocket, that I am acquitted."

This was the remark of E. H. McCoole as he sat in the court room awaiting the verdict of the jurors as they filed in the room. The verdict meant everything as to the future of the man's life but he was confident from the first that he would not be convicted. There was a smile on the faces of several of the jurors and the prisoner detected the smile.

As he was being brought from the county jail to the court room the officer asked McCoole what he thought about his chances and McCoole said that he did not see how a body of men could do anything but acquit him.

Hugged the Attorney.

C. C. Leforgee was the only one of the attorneys in the case present. When McCoole heard the judge read the verdict that set him free he was very happy.

He embraced Mr. Leforgee and shook hands with each of the jurors and told them that he did not know what he would ever do for them. C. S. McCoole, the brother, was also very happy.

Was Congratulated. McCoole received the congratulations of those in the court room and then went to his brother's office in the Powers building. He later went to Wilson's barber shop under King's drug store and there held quite a reception. He shook hands with many of his friends on the street.

McCoole passed most of the morning in the offices of Attorney Mills and Attorney Leforgee and most all the afternoon was in his brother's office.

He received a dozen or more telegrams from friends who had been informed by wire that he was acquitted.

Thanked Everyone. McCoole was profuse in his thanks to the jurors and to the court officers. He thanked the sheriff and Deputy Hendricks who looked after him since his arrest and said he felt especially grateful for the kind treatment he had received at the hands of the sheriff and his officers.

Gave Up His Gun. Deputy Hendricks spoke to McCoole not try to do anything more, but retired and in the morning another ballot was taken and all twelve were for acquittal.

One of the jurors in speaking of the case, said:

"I was for acquittal on the grounds of self defense. McCoole swore that he went to the house to get the clothes and music and there was no proof to contradict his statement. We were compelled to believe what he said. We also believed that if McCoole had not killed McNier the latter would have killed him and we thought that McNier had tried to provoke a quarrel that day and the evidence showed that he had made threats."

"McCoole made a good impression on the jury when he was on the stand. He seemed to tell all the story he was asked about without any hesitation and he told it in a good straightforward way that made the jurors believe that he was telling the truth."

"Some of the witnesses for the prosecution we did not like. According to my notion there was nothing else for the jury to do but acquit the man. We were compelled to believe McCoole's story and the evidence about the pistol he used to kill McNier. McCoole asked if it was in the hands of the deputy and the latter said he had it in his possession and that McCoole could dispose of it as he pleased. McCoole gave the gun to Hendricks as an expression of the appreciation of the treatment he had received.

How the Verdict Was Received.

The news of the acquittal soon spread over the city and in an hour it had ceased to be news and everyone knew about it. Most every one on the street had something to say or ask about it. The most of the people expressed themselves as being pleased with the verdict and many expressed themselves as not agreeing with the jury.

E. H. McCoole and his brother saw a good many persons on the streets during the day and many stopped and spoke who were not personal acquaintances. Questions were asked as to what the man just freed intended to do and in this regard C. S. McCoole said that he would have his brother in the office of the correspondence school with him in this city for a while and that later E. H. McCoole would probably take up the work in one of the neighboring cities. He said he himself as well as the accused brother had gone in debt a good deal in order to carry on the trial and it would be necessary for them both to work hard for a time in order to make up their financial loss.

WITH THE JURY.

Nine to Three for Acquittal on First Ballots, Acquittal on Fourth. The jury took three ballots Tuesday night. At first they stood 9 to 3 in favor of acquittal. The last ballot at night showed that there was one man who was not in favor of acquittal, the vote being 11 to 1. The one man was Juror Smart, of Maroa. The jury did showed that it was self defense. One of the jurors said that he supposed that the members of the jury would be roasted by some persons but that they had done what they thought was right as the case was presented to them and that was what they were called upon to do.

Wanted to Explain.

J. W. Sanders of Decatur, one of the jurors, called to see McCoole in the afternoon and said he wanted to explain. He learned on arriving home that the attorneys had attempted to have him removed, charging that he had talked about the case and expressed opinions. Sanders said he did talk about some points of law but not about this particular case and he wanted McCoole to know that he was honest about his answers when examined as a juror.

Cost Was Great.

This was next to the longest murder trial ever held in this county. In the 70's the trial of Mrs. Henkle lasted for three weeks.

The McCoole case was the most expensive one to the county ever tried and it was necessary to examine more men to secure a jury than in any other trial. The total amount of money paid out of the treasury in cash was about $2300. In addition there were sheriff's fees.

The amount paid to the twelve jurors Tuesday morning was $332.10. The entry of "not guilty" was made in the court docket and the orders on the county were given to the jurors and that ended the murder case and affairs at the courthouse fell back into the regular routine again.

Worst of all Experiences.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newsom, Decatur, Ala. "For three years," she writes, "I endured insufferable pain from indigestion, stomach and bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable when doctors and all remedies failed. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. I improved at once and now I'm completely recovered." For Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 6c. It's guaranteed at the drug stores of John E. King, Chas. F. Shilling and N. L. Krone.

Pitcher Weigand's release was mailed to him last night.
McIntosh, a short stop from Jamestown, N. Y., has been signed and is expected within a few days.

With these changes the management of the local club believe that they are in a way to solve some of the problems that have confronted them. The fact has been recognized for a long time that the team was woefully crippled in the infield. As a matter of fact Decatur has had no shortstop up to date. The place has simply been filled in by any player that could be sent to the position.

The wisdom of releasing Weigand will be questioned by a good many, but the fact remains that he has been a losing pitcher this year. With Jacobsen, Magill, Wright and Eul to fill the pitchers' box however, the team will not be so bad off.

McIntosh is recommended by the Indianapolis management. He is said to be a fast man and is expected to join the team by Saturday.
The efforts of the Decatur management at the present time are to strengthen the team and get into position to make a fight for the pennant and in this endeavor they are entitled to the support and encouragement of every loyal fan. If they can find ball players who will strengthen the team they are going to get them.

THE AMATEURS.
The Colts defeated the Chandler
Cub Suckers at the sand bank diamond by a score of 7 to 6. The Colts were getting the wet end all through the game by the fourth and the game was called in the fourth inning on account of darkness. Metz did the pitching and struck out seven Suckers. He will pitch against the Com-modores Sunday.

In the Y. M. C. A. league tonight
the Cubs and the Shoguns will do battle to see who fills the last place in the per cent column. The Cubs are under new management and have been materially strengthened by a half dozen of the fastest amateurs in the city and will make the rest of the teams look like Springfield from now on.
The batting order of the Cubs will be House 2b, Wood ss, Moore cf, Redmond 1b, Howenstein or Ross 3b, Munsio rf, Hogan lf, Roark c, Armstrong p.
The Cubs will take on a few after-supper games with any amateur team in the city on open dates. Address

SPLINTERS OF SPORT
Begins to look like Decatur and Bloomington would have to fight it out.

Monty McFarland certainly hit like a demon in the last game at Springfield—four safeties in four times up, average, 1900.

Tim Hurst has quit baseball forever.
He is in the bicycle business.

Rock Island fans are contenting themselves with the fact that they played fast ball against the Bloomers.
Does not take much to satisfy them
after six straight defeats.

It is reported that Levinson will be transferred from the Three I to the Western by Decatur. The president ought not to use the Three I league as a grafting ground.

Hayes has fined Hughes
and benched him for a week without pay for not being in condition to play ball when called upon to do so.

They must have some mighty ordinary players in the Central league when the papers acknowledge that Holmes is one of the best catchers in the circuit. Decatur would not have him last year and neither would several other (clubs of the Three I league.

INTERPRETS GAME LAW
Attorney General Hamlin Tells Meaning of Disputed Section.

Attorney General Hamlin has given an interpretation of a section of the new game law which has caused considerable discussion. Judge Hamlin says:

The license provided to be issued by Section 25 of the new game law, to persons who desire to hunt and kill game in this state, does not authorize persons holding such license to hunt or kill game on the lands of another without first obtaining from the owner, agent or occupant of such lands or grounds, his, her or their permission to do so.

COULD NOT FIND RELATIVES.
Remains of Man Who Died at Andrews Restaurant Buried by Friends.

Relatives of Lyman Thornton, the man who died suddenly at the Andrew's restaurant last Saturday night could not be found and Wednesday a body of the man was buried at Greenwood cemetery.

Coroner Dawson made every effort to find the relatives of the man but his search was fruitless. It was at first thought that the man's name was Thornton, but it was afterward found that his name was Thornton and that he was an unmarried man and had been working at Ivesdale.

He had some friends who looked after his burial. The man has some relatives in this country but they could not be located.

PROVED A TREAT.
Dr. Burchitt Entertained a Large Crowd at Grace M. E. Church.

At Grace Methodist church last evening Dr. Burchitt of Virginia, Illinois, lectured on the subject of "Have your fortune told." He proved a surprise to the large audience present. His lecture was sparkling with wit and apt illustration and his music on the auto harp captivated the audience. Dr. Burchitt is said to be the finest player of the auto harp in the country and his performance last night certainly entitles him to that reputation.

Startling Evidence.
Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr.
King's New Discovery for Consumption coughs and colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFar-

ple. He writes: "I had bronchitis for gan taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me."
